The Echo

Published by the Class of 1943
Winthrop High School
Winthrop, Massachusetts

Dedication

We, the class of 1943, dedicate this yearbook to all of you who have entered Uncle Sam's service. Wherever you may be — on convoy duty in the North Atlantic, flying bombers over Berlin, in a foxhole on Guadalcanal, or marching in North Africa — we hope that this memento of our senior year will attest to the fact that we, too, are contributing our small part to the war effort. Evidence of changes in our school curriculum are found in the Victory Corps, the science and navigation courses, and the generally accelerated program. Yet, we are holding the torch of democracy high so that when you return it will be to a better world where the four freedoms — freedom of speech, freedom of worship, freedom from fear, and freedom from want — will be the reward of your victory.

Faculty

MR. DUNHAM, PRINCIPAL

Mr. Leslie L. Dunham, acting principal, is head of the mathematics department, eaching classes himself. His genial good nature has endeared him to all the students.

MR. DONAHUE, ASSISTANT PRINCIPAL, BALANCES THE BOOKS

Mr. Walter Donahue, assistant principal, is also financial secretary of the school, is in charge of attendance, and teaches book-keeping.

Miss Addie I. Willard, acting superintendent of schools in the absence of Capt. Arthur E. Boudreau. Army Air Corps, is popular with one and all for the kindly interest she has shown in all our activities. She is here pictured with our School Committee, that venerable body whose word is law in school matters.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE and SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

Mr. A. Walter Larkin, Mr. Ernest Bentley, Mr. John B. Mattson, School Committee; Miss Addie I. Willard, Acting Superintendent of Schools

Miss Jessie Porter, energetic head of the Guidance Department, has this year been even busier than before. She aids students in selecting schools and colleges for future study, helps them co-ordinate their program to requirements, and looks out for their best interests. This year, besides all her other duties, she has organized our active Victory Corps.

GUIDANCE

Miss Porter dictates to Miss Rantz

ENGLISH

Miss McIntyre; Mills Wilder, head of Department; Miss Herbert, Miss Chalfant, Miss Henderson

Under the guidance of the versatile teachers of the English Department, students become acquainted with the best poetry, prose, and drama in the English language, develop more skill in composition and accuracy in grammar, preparing themselves to face the future with a good knowledge of their own tongue, invaluable in the modern world.

LANGUAGES

Miss Merrill, Latin; Miss Beck, French; Miss Brown, French; Miss Cady, Spanish

Latin classes under Miss Marie Merrill are given practical aid in better understanding of English thru derivation, besides studying the classics — Caesar and Virgil.

French and Spanish students under the Misses Crescentia Beck, Helen Brown, and Helen Cady study customs as well as language, thus gaining sympathetic understanding of these countries.

MATHEMATICS and SCIENCE

Mr. Dalrymple, Mr. Colby, Miss Bloomfield, Miss Fielding, Head of Science Department, Mr. Connor

Upon our mathematics and science much emphasis has been placed. Besides the usual math and science courses, geometry, algebra, trig, calculus — physics, chemistry and biology, this year much stress has been on such phases as aeronautics, radio and telegraphy, and practical science, which includes a course in automobile mechanics.

COMMERCIAL

Miss Petrucci, Typing and Office Appliance; Miss Mills, Typing and Shorthand; Mrs. Hurley, Typing, Employment Secretary; Miss Sherry, Bookkeeping and Commercial Law; Miss Johnson, Typing and Shorthand

The Commercial Department's courses in typewriting, shorthand, bookkeeping, commercial law and geography, and office practice prepare students immediately for assuming positions in the business world. The school's employment bureau in charge of Mrs. Hurley aids the students in securing jobs; it announces a 100% placement among the class of '42.

HISTORY

Miss Blackburn in her history classes tackles vital problems of today and yesterday, instilling in her pupils a keen alertness to events of today, bringing them into focus with the view of the past. It is with comprehension of what they will meet that her pupils face the world.

MUSIC

Miss Mary Ross as head of the School Music Department has much enlivened interest in the music program. We have this year several active glee clubs which have performed on different occasions, and a dance orchestra which has played at the socials.

Miss Blackburn

Miss Ross

Today, when physical fitness is a by-word among Americans, we can hardly ignore the importance of gym. Under the guidance of Miss F. Theresa Key and Mr. Gordon Connor, students learn body-building exercises as well as participate in sports and games. The Victory Corps with its emphasis on good health has enabled students to have an extra period of gym a week.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Miss Key, Girls' Physical Education; Miss Devereux, Coach Connor

Mr. Timothy Sheehan and Mr. Carl Johnson in the shop and mechanics courses give valuable instruction to the boys, especially those heading for war work or a mechanical branch of the services. Mr. Reed's arts and graphics department does valuable service here on the home front, providing us with posters, etc., not only for school use but for use in the town.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Mr. Reed, Mr. Sheehan, Head of Department; Mr. Johnson

HEALTH

Mrs. Carlz

School Nurse Mrs. Carlz has had quite a time this year with practically all of Room 124 coming down with measles at one time or another, and room after room exhibiting a case or two.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE

Miss McPherson gives her staff a few pointers

Miss Marie McPherson is the busy head of the Domestic Science Department. Besides instructing classes in sewing, dress modeling, and cooking and nutrition, she is in charge of the school lunchroom where students get delicious, well-balanced meals at very low cost.

Mr. Edward Pero, here shown with "Sugar Plum," his trusty bike, keeps a careful check on absenteeism in our plant.

TRUANT OFFICER

Mr. Pero

OFFICE

Miss McCarthy

Always ready to lend a helping hand, to give advice if asked, Miss Mary McCarthy, busy secretary to Mr. Dunham, is well liked by all who come in contact with her.

Miss Margaret Higgins as Librarian gives valuable aid to students in securing the best books for assignments, in choosing most beneficial books for recreational reading, in developing good reading tastes for life.

THE JANITORS

Now, in the lower left hand corner, we have the janitors whose work has only begun when we homeward plod our weary way. On the right, we have their ever-active boss, Mr. Elden B. Crosby, custodian of buildings.

Mr. Sullivan, Mr. McLaughlin, Mr. Doherty

Mr. Crosby

Lt. Orrin C. Davis, U.S.N.R.

"Carry on in the best American tradition in these trying times. Do your part willingly and wholeheartedly for our great country. May the day come soon when young people may graduate from high schools with the assurance of a peaceful and happy life."

—Lt. Davis

Service Stars Among the Faculty

"May I express my personal congratulations to all the members of the class of 1943 in arriving so successfully at the culmination of your Winthrop school days. Your class has been a most outstanding one and I sincerely regret being unable to be present at your graduation.

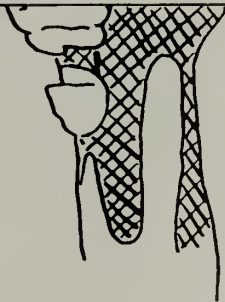

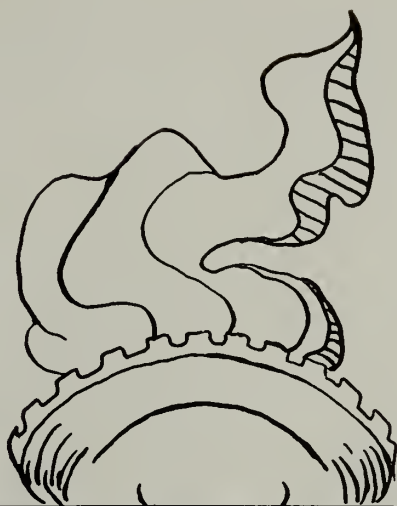

You are all going into your future life at a most critical time in the history of our country and I know that your contribution will be of vital help in bringing this war to a successful conclusion.

May God watch over all of you and may your future life be as successful and happy as your past Winthrop school days."

Sophomore Ballot

Dorothy Rando and Harry Benson were voted best looking,

But Jacqueline Norwood and Billy Adams
may consider a Hollywood booking.

Best dressers Gloria Fuccillo and James
Danahy lead the style parade,

But Lorraine Bertrand and Steve Bartello to the fashion ads give aid.

Best dancers Margaret Murray and William
Ward can really jitterbug,

But Barbara Finn and James Danahy also cut a rug.

Best athletes Ruth Geary and Joe Walsh
have plenty of vim,

Tho' Mary Frati and James Howard also manage to keep in trim.

The most witty pair in our sophomore class are Jean McDonald and Niles Schlegel,

But Mabel Williams and James Howard at tossing quips are quite able.

Marilyn Mattson and James Kirkpatrick in the line of knowledge lead

Yet Gloria Fuccillo and Kemon Taschioglou are also bound to succeed.

Mabel Williams and Carol Sullivan tied for most pleasing personality,

Tho' John Domenico and Joe Walsh prove that the boys have vitality.

Stella Coffin and Bernard Avruch are most musically inclined,

Tho' Hazel Browdy and James Danahy
suggest rhythm to our mind.

Now we've presented the babe of the school,
our esteemed sophomore class

Their ballots were all counted, and results printed herewith en masse.

On the Gridiron

WINTHROP HIGH FOOTBALL SEASON 1942

This season our football team started out strong by tying Danvers and then beating Woburn. After these two games they hit the skids and lost the remainder of their games.

Although we did not have a very good season, the boys gave a good account of themselves and always put up a good battle.

The high point of the season was against Melrose. The Melrose boys were unscored upon until they came down to Miller Field. With Charlie Flanagan "pitchin'" and Rick Wallace "plungin'," we came up with six of the eight points scored against Melrose throughout their entire season.

Except for the fact that we gave up three star performers to Uncle Sam's Navy—Angie Spano, Bill Sobey and Red Moore—we undoubtedly would have wound up with a better record. But as long as our Navy and other armed forces keep smashing through the Jap and Nazi lines, we still feel that we have a proud record.

On the Rebound

Although Winthrop got off to a topsy-turvy start, the boys settled down to complete the best basketball season in recent years, hooping up a record of ten wins against only four losses.

The outstanding features of this year's team were fast deceptive team play and the spirit which carried the boys through their schedule which included six straight victories.

So highly respected was our team, that it was asked to participate in the annual M. I. T. "Tech" tourney, held this year at Cousens Gym at Tufts College. In its Quarter-Final game with Story High of Manchester-by-the-Sea, Winthrop continued its fine brand of ball, winning handily. However in their Semi-Final game with Lexington, the boys had an off day and were defeated.

Coach Gordon Connor deserves a good deal of praise, for in his two years of coaching basketball at Winthrop, he has turned out two tournament teams.

“The Sports Raiders”

Our hockey season was devoted to an intra-mural program which proved to bring out keen interest and lively competition. The squad was divided into the Blue and White teams, and a series of games ensued. In some games our veterans played side by side with sophomore beginners and offered valuable assistance in rule and technique.

Many of our games were played at Miller Field, including the highly-spirited Alumni Game, in which the High School emerged victorious.

We regret to say good-bye to our veteran players: Captain Barb Wickson, who won the Alexander Trophy for Girls' Hockey; to full-backs Milly Lappen and Ruthie Iversen, on whose good work we could always depend; to our center half-back Irene Cartwright; and to our pleasant little center Kay Hill. We wish them well and hope they will return for the Alumni Game, October 12.

The Sophomore girls have been most intent on playing the game well, and are looking forward, along with the Juniors, to the next season.

Included in the sports program is basketball and badminton. The basketball games were played throughout the season on Wednesday afternoons, and the new badminton equipment, which was greatly appreciated, was put to sturdy use every Thursday afternoon.

Miss Frances Crowley, our energetic and enthusiastic faculty coach and director, is entitled to our thanks for her very generous giving of time and interest in girls' athletic activities.

BASEBALL TEAM

First Row—R. O'Connor, A. Walker, R. Wallace, C. Flanagan, Capt. R. Dunlop, R. Talcott, J. Clancy, R. Stevenson, E. Gingrich.

Kings of the Diamond

This season Coach Connor has six veterans back from last year's team. With this array of talent we should compile a pretty good record.

The boys, headed by Ed Doherty, Charlie Flanagan, Captain Bob Dunlop, Ed Gingrich, Al Walker and Rick Wallace, have been practicing since early April. Other likely starters are Bob Brenna behind the plate, Gene Whittier on the mound, Bob Talcott on third, and Jack Clancy and Gene Kirby in the out-field.

The baseball team, like the football team, has also lost a few veterans to the armed forces and to college. Angie Spano has joined the Navy, and Mortie Page won a scholarship to Bowdoin, where he is first string catcher.

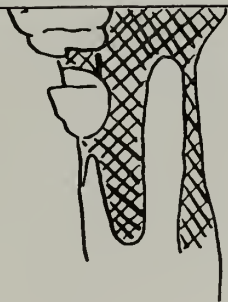

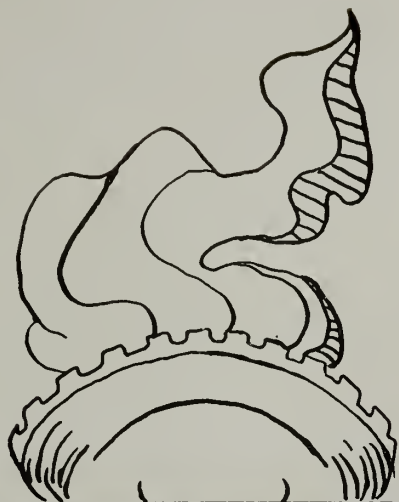

The pitching is expected to be good with Al Walker and Charlie Flanagan back from last year. Gene Whittier has also shown considerable promise of being a dependable starter. If the team backs up the hurling with good fielding and hitting we should be able to hold our own with any company.

Lippmans, Pyles and Thompsons

Shortages, inexperience, and depleted ranks did not daunt the ECHO staff through a busy year.

Because of an early graduation for the class of 1942, our staff didn't have a chance to learn the business under supervision in the spring of last year. We struck out boldly in the fall, and led by editor-in-chief Muriel Mattson managed to round off the rough edges as the year progressed.

Miss Wilder and Gene discuss the bi-weekly

After the middle of the year, the bi-weekly was in charge of Eugene Whittier, who was selected when assistant editor Morton Page left for college and Muriel Mattson began working on the year book.

The business staff was robbed of its genial leader, William Schlegel, by the army. But Charles Flanagan and Robert Fisher kept the ball rolling and turned in a fine job.

Six members of the staff attended the Eastern Massachusetts Scholastic Press Conference at Northeastern University in March. There were many entertaining as well as interesting and informative lectures.

A novel issue of the ECHO was put out on April Fool's Day. The writers went wild and the sky was the limit. A new school and athletic field were built, the old school was blown up, the teachers turned junior commandos—in fact, truth was the only thing missing. Everyone became dizzy reading the paper because articles were printed upside down and backwards. Changes are always good and this issue was a great success.

Now we turn the job over to the juniors with regret, for we've had a lot of fun.

“As the Romans Do”

The Junior Classical League of Winthrop, under the direction of Miss Marie Merrill, organized for the school year 1942-43 on October 8, 1942. The following officers were elected: Ruth LaCentra, president; Lillian Vessey, vice-president and program chairman; Marilyn Mattson, secretary; Kay Williams, treasurer; Kemon Taschioglou, librarian; and Shirley Fish, property chairman. The members chosen to serve on the executive board were Charles Adjmi, Miriam Levy and Barbara Wood.

Each meeting appropriately opened with an impressive ceremony at which six Vestal Virgins lighted a fire sacred to the goddess Vesta. Throughout the year members participated in the club activities by taking part in the various programs. At each meeting a report was given of some part of the Latin magazine, Auxilium Latinum. In December an interesting program was presented in which many customs of the Roman Saturnalia were demonstrated.

To climax a most successful season the club assembled in the evening for the purpose of making a study of the stars.

The Music-Makers

The Glee Clubs have spent a very successful year under the capable guidance of Miss Mary Ross. The Senior Glee Club, consisting entirely of girls, has been interested principally in patriotic songs and various songs of the different branches of the service. The girls have also studied semi-classical part songs with an eye towards improvement of harmony work. Due to the uncertainty of war conditions, programs which otherwise would have been presented to the public have been curtailed. On March 18, the Senior Glee Club took part in the induction service of the Victory Corps.

The Junior Glee Club, consisting of both boys and girls, has been able to do more harmony work. They also have been doing victory work with an eye toward "keeping America singing."

The Sophomore Glee Club is made up entirely of girls. They have done excellent work both in solo and harmony music.

Because of the enthusiastic interest of many of the students, a Special Glee Club was organized with meetings after school, for those students from all three classes who wished to take part both for enjoyment and improvement of voice. These students have worked on both classical and popular music.

A South American musical review was produced this spring by students from the senior, junior and sophomore classes. Some of the acts from this review were presented at the Senior Class Day in a cabaret style which lent a South American atmosphere.

Miss Ross is to be congratulated for the excellent work she has accomplished in the musical department in her first year at Winthrop High School.

“Marchons, Marchons!”

The French Club under the capable direction of Miss Crescentia Beck has tried to perpetuate the spirit of France at the meetings held throughout the year.

At the first meeting, the nomination and election of the following officers comprised the business:

President . . . . . Kenneth Garnjost

Vice-president and treasurer

Edwin Brown

Secretary . . . . . Fay Scheinfein

The program committee, Betty Clark, Florence Levine, and Jacqueline Masovetsky have arranged the programs of the meetings.

The Christmas meeting was planned in true holiday measure and the club celebrated this joyous season with a varied and interesting program. The French reading of Christ's Nativity was one of the highlights of this meeting.

At the April meeting Betty Clark, Florence Levine, Jacqueline Masovetsky, Barbara Burr, Marion Rogolsky, Ruth La Centra and Jean Ryan presented to the club an amusing play entitled “Madame Est Sortie.” The cast spent a great deal of time in trying to present a perfected performance. “Madame Est Sortie” concerns the antics of two maids who are alone in the house and the events which lead up to the climax make the play a hilarious hit.

At the various meetings, entertainment has been provided by the lovely voice of Anne Keane, who has sung such selections as “Cantique de Noel” and “Habanera” from Carmen; and by the piano duets of Muriel Mattson and Fay Scheinfein.

French songs have occupied a large part of every meeting, and the stirring French march “La Marseillaise” is lustily sung at the close of each gathering.

Second Row—E. Slattery, M. Mattson, F. Levine, Miss Blackburn, M. Ross, S. Ginsburg, M. Talcott.

“Worthy Opponents”

The situation of world affairs has given, the Debating Club this year, perhaps more than any other year, a wealth of material for lively debates. The club has made definite use of these advantages by holding discussion groups very often during the year. The meetings have always been held on an informal basis and the members seem to contribute a large share of the success of this club to this same informality. Having a small membership, the Debating Club offers many more opportunities for everyone to express his opinions and air his ideas.

The meetings have been presided over by Helen Lynch, who was elected chairman; and Grace Murphy has taken charge of the secretarial and financial duties.

Possessed with the strong conviction that the youth of today are the peace-makers of tomorrow, the Debating Club has spent most of its meetings on worthwhile topics involving peace plans and post-war reconstruction. One of these, “Federal Union for the Post-War World,” has been the cause of great discussion among fellow debaters.

At one session of the club every member covered one country in his discussion and explained its aims and desire for a place in the post-war world. In that way interesting similarities and dissimilarities could be drawn between the news of various nations.

Another subject under debate concerned whether eighteen-year-olds should be allowed to vote.

Under the capable direction of Miss Viva Blackburn, the club members have felt that they have added to their knowledge not only of world affairs but also of debating technique.

Our Publicity Experts

Behold this small but impressive group of Seniors! Their work this year has been done on their own initiative, with everyone on equal rank since there are no officers and all discussions are on an informal basis.

At the beginning of this year this capable group of reliable boys and girls started on a job not unlike that of a newspaper reporter. On each Friday the Club assembles and informally plans to cover the news of the week.

When more information than they have is needed, the members are free to go anywhere in the building to interview any pupil or teacher who will give them details to make the items interesting and correct.

After the write-ups for the week have been completed, they are given to the Club Adviser, who, after reading and criticizing them, gives them to Mr. L. L. Dunham, Senior High Principal.

Ultimately the typewritten items are sent to the Winthrop Review and The Sun. Then comes the big thrill for these reporters, for they see the work of their own pencils and pens actually published where it can be read by all who are interested.

The weeks have gone quickly for the nose-for-news artists this year. They have even helped the war effort by sending two of their girls out to work early in the year and one boy to Northeastern University in May.

"Ever Since Eve"

On December 8 and 9 the Senior Class Play "Ever Since Eve" was presented, and it is our great pleasure to record here that it was one of the most successful plays Winthrop High has ever produced. Reasons for this success were plentiful. First, we have a happy-go-lucky skylark of a story—all about nothing much and just the sort of thing that high schoolers take to their hearts.

"Ever Since Eve" is an engaging play about serious-minded Johnny Clover, a confirmed woman-hater, who wants to be a writer and who accordingly sets out to publish a school newspaper with the aid of his boistrous buddy, Spud Irwin. However, complications arise in the form of Susan Blake, a pretty little pest who has had a crush on the imperturbable Johnny for the better part of her life.

Around these principles revolve a whole galaxy of lesser stars—namely, Mr. and Mrs. Clover, whose laughable family life is punctuated by Mr. Clover's over-developed case of absentmindedness; Miss Williams, the English teacher, and her romance with the well-starched, unapproachable principal of the high school; officer Simmons and his frantic Falstaffian efforts to keep a rein on the goings-on of "That bunch of kids"; Lucybelle Lee, the Southern sugar plum, who daintily upsets Susan's appercart with her madcap flirtations; Betsey, Susan's chum, whose antics are the source of more than one good chuckle; and the one and only Preston Hughes, heart-throb of the school, who sets his cap for Lucybelle along with the rest.

The second reason for the play's success was Miss Eleanor Herbert, whose expert direction made "Eve" what it was.

The third reason was an A1 cast.

We don't think a professional could have done a better job as John Clover than Gene Whittier did. His acting was spontaneous, his performance natural and convincing. He took to his part like a duck to water.

Ruth Shiner's characterization of Susan paralleled Gene's. The eager, responsive audience was immediately attracted by her dramatic ability and her striking blonde appearance.

Betty Fleming was another surprise package! The minute she walked onto the stage at the try outs, she walked right into the part of Betsey, Sue's scatterbrain pal.

John McIlhenny was a rib-tickler of the first order, even though he was just John McIlhenny! He just sauntered onto the set, lifted his scarlet, hand-painted shoes up on the couch and made himself at home, while the spectators held their sides at his debonair discussion of women.

Ralph Holgersen rated a hand as the absent-minded father. It's not easy for a boy in high school to become a gray-headed man of fifty, but Ralph did it and very well.

Sheldon Sollosy is a seasoned actor and you want to watch out when this accomplished scene stealer soft shoes into the play. His classmates found the idea of the ever-crowning Sheldon playing the part of an officer of the law so incongruous that a minor case of mass hysteria reigned for several minutes after he made his first entrance dressed as a policeman.

Page Magoon deserves mention. Although he had only one line, he packed real punch into it.

Harriet Marsh made an unbelievably lovely school marm. The open-mouthed silence that followed Harriet's entrance was a real tribute to her lovely appearance.

Elsa Shea stepped gracefully into the mother's role and everyone was thoroughly satisfied with her gentle rendition.

Let us hope that the Senior Plays of the future will live up to the high standards set by the class of '43. But with Miss Herbert to help them—how can they do else?

WINTHROP HIGH SCHOOL VICTORY CORPS

The Winthrop High School Victory Corps is a unit of a voluntary national organization to prepare students for war service in the field, in production, and in the community. A candidate for General Membership must be taking a course involving training in English, mathematics, and science, with a definite vocational aim; he must be taking a program of intensive physical education; he must be preparing himself to meet the needs of the war effort in the Armed Services, production, or community service; or he must actually be participating in such services.

Boys and girls in the Junior and Senior classes are eligible to membership in the five special divisions of the Victory Corps—preparation for Air Service, for Sea Service, for Land Service, for Production Service, or for Community Service. Members of Air, Land and Sea Services are taking pre-induction courses in navigation, pre-flight training, shop work, radio and electricity. Members of the Production Service are doing productive work in the community. Members of the Community Service are performing volunteer work of various types. In many cases the members have shown great ingenuity in procuring equipment and supplying instructors from their own ranks. All Junior boys have taken the Victory Corps Aeronautical Aptitude Test, and many Senior boys have taken the physical examination which is a screening test for pilots.

UNDER-GRADS LIKE US AND WE LIKE UNDER-GRADS

Pardon us for pointing, but we seem to be it when it comes to outfitting the smart young men of New England. We've had many years of experience in satisfying their demands (and believe us they know what they want). Parents approve, too, for Kennedy prices are always geared to the times.

Thanks!

To all our advertisers and patrons who have contributed so generously to financing this book; to all our teachers whose most helpful suggestions and untiring assistance have tremendously lessened our burden; and to our loyal subscribers without whose interest this book would not have been—the ECHO staff, in bidding adieu to our completed undertaking, express the most sincere gratitude and heartfelt appreciation.

A word of special recognition is given to Miss Florence Wilder for her sympathetic guidance as our faculty adviser, to Miss Jessie Porter for her invaluable material relative to the Victory Corps, to Kenneth Garnjost for his contribution of photos, and to Jane Flaherty for the book cover design and sectional headings.

We regret that our joint endeavor is now drawing to a close, but we shall ever cherish the memory of our happy association with such steadfast friends as you all have proven yourselves to be.

Thank you!
